

SEU International Summer School Program

Application Deadline
August 18, 2019

Schedule
November–December, 2019 (8 weeks)

Open to students enrolled at architectural design programs;
Applicants should be 4th year undergraduate students (fall semester studio course credits rewarded upon completion of the course);
Non-native English speakers should have IELTS score of 6 or above (or equivalent)

Development and Preservation Strategies for the Heritage City of Ahmadabad, India

TRADITIONAL SETTLEMENTS AND ARCHITECTURAL HERITAGE

India and China, have many synergies in terms of being the most populous nations, large geographic expanse and old civilizations. Given these synergies urban development dynamics are similar and yet distinct. The course thus offers a unique opportunity to learn in the premier universities of habitat studies in India and China, focusing on the question ‘How do two cities of China and India, Nanjing and Ahmedabad, respond to their built Heritage’ ?

Host & Organizer
Southeast University, China & CEPT University, India

Contact Information
LI Xinjian 55836364@qq.com
